THE SEASON OF GATHERING

November invites us to slow down, gather with loved ones, and celebrate the dishes and traditions that make this time of year so memorable. As Thanksgiving approaches and holiday entertaining moves into focus, versatile wines become essential, offering something for every palate at the table. This month, we're highlighting a selection of bottles from DAOU Vineyards: a pioneering Paso Robles winery known for maintaining a commitment to quality, balance, and approachability.

Both the Sauvignon Blanc and Rosé offer freshness and vibrancy for appetizers and lighter fare, while the Chardonnay provides richness and elegance for seasonal dishes. DAOU's signature Pessimist and Cabernet Sauvignon deliver depth and character, making them excellent companions for heartier meals and cooler evenings. Whether you're hosting a holiday celebration or enjoying a quiet, cozy evening with friends, these wines bring people together while elevating every occasion.
